Report of Workshop on “Investment Planning With Mutual Fund”

There are many ways to save and invest like FD, gold, property, mutual fund, share market etc. But while saving or investing, the question of where and how to do it is always asked by everyone, among them, many people are afraid of investing in the stock market and mutual funds. But in real sense investing in Mutual Funds is more beneficial for common people than any other way or way of investing but there seems to be very less awareness in that regard. In order to give guidance and information about why and how to invest in mutual funds in such a situation, Department of Economics of Smt. Nankibai Wadhvani Arts College Yavatmal run by Yavatmal Zilla Vikas Samiti, Yavatmal in association with HDFC Mutual a one-day state level workshop on “Investment Planning with Mutual Funds” was organized in the college on August 24, 2022.

As a trainer and guide for this workshop, Hon. Ajit Parbate (Mutual Fund Trainer, Nagpur) and as Chief Guest Hon. Ajay Singh Rajpurohit (Branch Manager, HDFC Mutual Fund, Amravati) was present. The above workshop was organized under the chairmanship of Hon’ble Principal Dr. Jayant Chatur. While introducing the program the role behind organizing this workshop was clarified by Prof.Dr. Sanjay Rachalwar (Head of Department of Economics, Smt. Nankibai Wadhvani Arts College, Yavatmal).

The Chief Guest Ajay Singh Rajpurohit Expressed that there is a large amount of illiteracy in terms of investment in our India and to remove this illiteracy there is an urgent need to organize the workshop like this. While giving information about the types of investment, options and other financial institutions available while investing in any sector, while giving detailed information about the difficulties and advantages of investing in mutual funds, large cap, small cap, mid cap investment, liquid fund, debt
